GLOWING TRIBUTE TO MR. ROOSEVELT

Senator McCumber Eulogizes President in Speech.

VETERANS HOLD BANQUET

Given in Honor of Henry M. Nevius, Commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic-Senator Curtis Tells of Influence of Union Soldiers on Prosperity of Country.

Senator McCumber paid a glowing tribute to President Rooscvelt last evening in a speech at a reception and banquet given in honor of Henry M. Nevius, of Red Bank, N. J., commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, which was held at the Arlington Hotel.

About 300 veterans of the Army of the Potomac were present, and included as guests of honor were some of the leading men in the army and political life of the country.

Tells of Duties.

The Senator from North Dakota took for his subject "The President of the United States." He prefaced his remarks with an account of manifold duties devolving upon the Executive. He said a toast to the President is always a toast to the American nation, and the people never entirely dissociate the individual from the great government which he represents. The Senator said, in part:

that standard there are as many different Theodore Roosevelts as there are people in the country. Most of the American people see, and I believe see correctly, a great, earnest, aggressive man, strong in his convictions for right, and unremitting in his efforts to make that right the convictions for right, and unremitting in his efforts to make that right the convictions for right, and unremitting in his efforts to make that right the convictions for right, and unremitting in his efforts to make that right the convictions for right, and unremitting in his efforts to make that right the convictions for right, and unremitting in his efforts to make that right the convictions for right, and unremitting in his efforts to make that right the convictions for right, and unremitting in his efforts to make the conviction of the American people see, and I believe see correctly, a great, earnest, aggressive man, strong in his convictions for right, and unremitting in his efforts to make the conviction of the conviction of
